MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of Global Sickle Cell Alliance is to improve the quality of life for all affected by, or at risk for, sickle cell disease, trait and related disorders. We address many of the challenges that have a significant effect on health status and well being of the global sickle cell community, including education, lack of health insurance, poverty, mistrust of health care professionals, attitudes of care providers, access to services, environmental factors and individual nutritional behaviors (diet) and physical activity.

In addition, GLoSCA will champion best local, national and global practices in eliminating health disparities as touching upon sickle cell within the local cultural and spiritual context.

GLoSCA fosters communication and true collaboration among all stakeholders at the local, national and international level to improve quality of life of individuals with sickle cell disease.

Our vision is greater access to quality medical care and human services for the global sickle cell community (pending an acceptable cure) through an international network.
